After all, our goal is to help you find well on your skin again! [Basic name="AcneScars"] (This patient was treated with Accutane for six months, as well as several laser treatments, including Sublime laser, Fraxel laser and Smoothbeam laser). Acne scars may seem like a double punishment: first I understand you to endure granites and now you have scars that remind you. The lesions caused by acne occur when the hair follicles (or "pores") of the skin are covered with oil and dead skin cells. A covered follicle is the ideal place for the growth of bacteria and to create red lumps and red lumps filled with pus like granites. What are the different types of acne? Acne is presented in different forms: mild acne: causes white or black points that most people have at some time moderate acne plus: causes swollen and red granites (which receive the name of papules) and red granites with the white center (which receive the name of skin of pústulas) severe acne: cause cysts or lumps receives that the best you can do If you have nodules, see your doctor or dermatologist for treatment. Treatment of acne scars Most of the time, reddish or acne markings remaining once granite disappears do not need treatment. However, if you touch or scramble granites, you can increase the risk of scarring.
